

I, Abhinav Raturi, pursuing B. Tech. in Computer Science and Engineering from Vellore Institute of Technology, Vellore and being a private college, I'm already paying a hefty amount of fees to the college and a good sum of money is spent on number of projects associated with almost every subject. I already have an outstanding loan of around 18 Lakhs and my father, being a general store shopkeeper can't afford to pay for additional expenses, including fees for online courses. As Vellore Institute of Technology has provision for Additional Learning through online courses and they have assigned 10 marks for Additional Learning, but the online courses are very expensive and I can't afford to enrol in such courses without financial aid. Also, I have a younger sister studying in Medical College and hence, my parents are already paying a hefty amount of fees for her education as well.

Being student of Computer Science and Engineering Branch, taking a course will add an extra feather to my cap and help me understand the course Neural Network and Fuzzy Control. As we know that in today's world Artificial Intelligence is being used in almost every aspect of our life. Taking this course will help me with my projects and the skills learnt through this course will help me with the projects I will make in GSAW and several Make-a-thons and Hack-a-thons. Also, as VIT has provision for Additional Learning through online courses, so this course will help me score upto 10 additional marks in Neural Network and Fuzzy Control course. Also, this course will help me with my placements in my final year as most of the good companies prefer candidate with sound software knowledge and hence will improve the financial condition of me and my family. I would be very grateful to you if you provide me with the financial aid so that I can learn this course and implement it in my projects.

I already have an outstanding loan of around 18 Lakhs and my father, being a general store shopkeeper can't afford to pay for additional expenses. I can't ask him to pay for this course as he already has a lot of financial pressure of me, my sister, general expenses and medical expenses of my grandparents. So, it would be difficult for me to pay for the course as a loan as well.
